Dear Distinguished New Era Games Club member,

It is with our deepest regret to inform you that the game publishers: Take 2 Interactive (also known as 2K Games) and THQ have been dropped from our list of game publishers represented by New Era Group of Companies. This is with immediate effect from May 1st 2008.

You are advised to obtain the relevant games licenses from the respective distributors in future to avoid problems with the law.

However, rest assured that publishers such as Ubisoft, Activision, Sega, Capcom, Bandai Namco, Ascaron, Paradox Interactive, Vivendi Universal Games along with 40 other world class game publishers are still being represented by New Era. Furthermore, their lines up of games are more relevant and will be more profitable for your business. Games such as Call of Duty 5, Guitar Hero 4, Far Cry 2, Rainbow Six Vegas 2, H.A.Z.E., H.A.W.X., Prototype, Ghostbusters, Ironman, Devil May Cry 4 are a few of the blockbusters heading your way this 2008.

I'd like to thank you for your attention and the support to New Era and the original games industry.

Thank you, again.

Yours Sincerely,

Sze Jun King

Sales and Marketing Manager
